

A TEACHERS

GUIDE!

THROUGH ~~THE~~

THE CLASSROOM

(2026 Edition)

5 Tips for teaching
w/o burnout*

* 4 & 5 are skipped cuz too much work

1. Time off = Time off

Set boundaries on how much (if any) of your free time goes to prep, grading, etc.

2. Remember that life (and school) is supposed to be fun

3. Do a fun thing each

(school -) day
(prank students/teachers, make jokes, etc...)

3 Life Haxx 4 Teachers

~~Set~~ your boundaries "smaller"

This way you can "fake" ppl crossing your boundary → Teens feel like they win, but so do you

Never give up Coffee! ☕ !!!

If something/someone sticks out / drastic change / feels weird

→ TALK ABOUT IT ASAP ❤️

Always does something else than school

NZ

skill / grades

Also but worse with grades

THE "COOL" KIDS w good grades

the most of the

Asks about too advanced stuff grades

NZ

Always do assignments (and) together

Nerds w good grades

"coolness"

TYPES OF STUDENTS

*NZ = Likelihood of Nazis is higher here

NZ

has good grades

For some reason it's like 50% of the class

Play some mobile game ALL DAY

One of them is class best

NZ

plays some obscure PC Game

is absent 50% of the time

& WHERE THEY SIT!

I can only show
you the door
you're the one that has to walk through it

Write ① thing you enjoyed about teaching today!

It can be good students,
something interesting or funny that happened etc.

Then pass this zine on to another teacher!

A group of students finished the work for the semester early ☺!!!

DONT

RANC

(Ok, maybe a lil panic may be a de grade)
